Introduction
Welcome to the Library service of the Institute of Technology, Carlow. The services provided by the Library include book lending, individual and group study facilities, photocopying, information retrieval service and access to a range of online databases.

The Library holds a broad range of resources both printed and electronic to support the area of Law. This includes books, journals, databases, Law Reports, newspapers and various other items.

Legal literature can be divided into two main categories – primary materials and secondary materials.

Primary materials are the written sources of the law e.g. Acts of the Oireachtas, Statutory Instruments, Law Reports etc

Secondary materials include all other types of legal literature which are not formal records e.g. books, journals etc

To facilitate the research process, this guide provides a brief outline of how to search for these different types of material.

Library Catalogue
The Library catalogue is the starting point for locating information on a particular subject. It is a searchable listing of all materials held in I.T. Carlow libraries.

Users can complete an initial search under a variety of search terms such as Author and Title. Alternatively, more search options are available by selecting ADVANCED SEARCH. This allows users to search under a larger variety of search terms such as Keyword, Subject or Shelf Number. Users also have the option to limit their search results to particular item types such as a current journal or a particular library location.

The online library catalogue also acts as an information portal to quality web-based resources, e-journals and databases.

The Library catalogue can be accessed at: https://libsearch.itcarlow.ie/

Books
Books are arranged by subject according to the Dewey Classification System. Each book in the Library is assigned a Dewey shelf number that identifies its subject matter. This number can be found on the spine of the book. The classification numbers for Law are 340 – 349. The following is a broad outline of the Dewey shelf numbers that are relevant to Law:

The book collections are divided into three categories. The general lending book collection from 001—699 is located on the ground floor (Stack 0-8) with the 700s—900s located on the first floor (Stack 18). Items from this collection can be borrowed for a loan period of one week.

The short loan collection is located on the ground floor (Stack 9). This collection contains items that are in high demand and can be borrowed for a period up to 48 hours.

The Law Reference collection is located on the ground floor (Stack 14-16) and contains items such as law reports, law journals, the Geoffrey Hand Law Collection etc. This collection also holds textbooks that are in high demand and are for library use only.

E-Books
The Library subscribes to a number of e-book platforms which are relevant for Law. These include:

- The Ebook Central platform covers all subject areas, providing access to over 85,000 titles.
- SAGE Handbook Collection—covers areas such as criminology, criminal justice etc.

These can be accessed via the Databases listing at: http://www.itcarlow.ie/library/services/a-z-list-of-databases.htm

Law Reports
The Library subscribes to various collections of Law Reports which include the All England Law Reports, Weekly Law Reports and the Irish Law Reports. These collections are located in the Law Reference section (Stacks 14-16) on the ground floor.

Journals
The Library subscribes to a number of print journal titles in the area of Law. The current year’s journals are located in Stack 17 on the ground floor beside the Law Reference collection. Back issues of Law journals are located in the Law Reference section (Stacks 14-16) on the ground floor.

Journals are often a source of the most current information on a topic and are arranged in subject order like books using Dewey shelf numbers.

E-Journals
Apart from the print journals to which the library subscribes, there are over 30,000 journals, newspaper and magazine titles available in full-text to IT Carlow users via subscriptions to online databases. Off-campus access to these resources is also available to all staff and registered students of the Institute.

To do a one-stop online search of these resources users can use the EDS Discovery Service. Using Basic or Advanced searching, users can browse for relevant material.

Users can also browse the listing of available resources by discipline through this Discovery service, available at: www.itcarlow.ie/library/services/eds.htm
